

Leadership Development - Ivy League Academy

It is our ongoing endeavor to equip and empower each student to face the challenges of the modern world. At Ivy League, Leadership is one of the mainworld pillars of development. Students are encouraged to participate in both academic and extracurricular activities to help build their leadership attributes.

Experts in various fields are often invited to the school to interact with the students and share their own learning experiences.

The school prefectural body is aimed at developing these multiple attributes of leadership. To encourage and mentor the future changemakers in the country and beyond.

With core values of freedom of expression, curiosity, excellence, leadership, respect and sense of community; our vision for the student community at Ivy League is based on the simplicity of these pillars of an ethically guided life.

VISION:

Our vision for students of the Ivy League Academy is that they stride into the ever changing world with fortitude, clarity of mind and earnest aspiration to change it in profound ways.

MISSION:

We strive to create a culture of joyful learning and academic excellence, where children blossom into young adults with liberal sensibilities and impeccable ethical moorings, ready to make a difference to their environment.
